VALUABLE COTTON FARM FOR SALE.
I WILL SELL, on accommodating terms, 300 acres of valuable FARM LAND, admirably suited to the cultivation of Cotton or Corn, situated in Lowndes county, Alabama, three miles from the Hickory Road, and ten miles East of the Pensacola Rail Road, in the most productive agricultural district in the United States. Said tract has on it a good dwelling with necessary outbuildings, a good Gin House and a large and inexhaustible body of the richest Blue Marl, easy of access and easily hauled out in itself a fine place for any one that will work it. Any one going South from North Carolina, by land will do well to examine this place before purchasing, as I am satisfied a more valuable place cannot be bought for the same money. For further particulars address the subscriber at Harrell's Store, North Carolina.

Thus far Mr. McDowell; for the other remarks contained in that article, Mr. McDowell has no responsibility, and is not given as authority, as the Fayetteville Observer appears to think. For good or evil, these remarks are wholly our own. We will add another remark or two to them—one is, that while we dislike bluster and display, we feel assured that Mr. Prior means well in his section, and his failings lean to the right side.— at no one we will ever accuse Mr. Gilmer of over-zeal for the South. Even at the North, National men accuse him of playing insidiously into the hands of the Republicans. Wherein Mr. Prior ranked John A. Gilmer, he did not hit a lick amiss, and he hit him some pretty hard blows.

Raleigh Register.
The London Times, correspondent at Southampton says that the visitors to the Great Eastern have nearly fallen off, and the preparations are being made to top up the ship snugly for the winter. The decks have been cleaned, the sails dried and stowed away, the masts stepped down, and the yards and funnels painted. Besides everything is gradually working down into its proper place.

GRATITUDE.—There is an old proverb which warns at the last person from whom we should expect to we a favor is the one upon whom we have liberally ved favors. And it is not unusual for persons to experience a positive aversion towards those who have rendered them great services; an aversion they struggle to suppress—they are ashamed of—they despise themselves for accepting—yet are even keenly conscious of the fact. Is not this very often the consequence of the manner in which the services have been rendered? Nothing so thoroughly destroys the beauty of an act of kindness as the desire for, or even the expectation of gratitude. And yet nothing is more common.

that has lately been so industriously encouraged at North. His agents at the South want no more of goods, and his losses this winter will be severe."

DLENESS.—Said the distinguished Chatham to his : "I would have inscribed upon the curtains of my bed, and the walls of your chamber. "If you do rise early you cannot make progress in any thing.—

Gov. McWille, of Mississippi, has recently commuted a special message to the Legislature of that State, recommending the payment of the Planters' Bank of Mississippi, a debt of $2,000,000 to that State. This debt originally amounted to $3,000,000 and is now about $3,000,000.

They started the torrent which has borne him over the precipice. They called forth from the caverns the tempest which wrecked him on a sunken reef. Before God, and in the light of eternal truth, the disaster at Harper's Ferry is their act, and not his. May the ghost of each victim to their doctrines of disunion and abomination sit heavy on their guilty souls! May the fate of the prisoner, whatever it may be, disturb their slumbers!

I know by the gleam of each eye into which I look in this jury-box, that if these men could change places with young Cook, you would gladly say to him, "Go, erring and repentant youth, our vengeance shall fall on those who paid their money, urged on the attack, and guided the blow."

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That an indictment under this act, and proof that the negro or mulatto acted as if free shall be sufficient prima facie evidence of the fact.

Sec. 5. Be it further enacted, That free negroes or mulattoes are hereby declared incapable of inheriting, acquiring or holding any property in this State; nor shall any property be removed from the State for the benefit of any such person.
